

Applications of GelcoPEP® collagen in the preparation of dietary supplements

Collagen has become the most popular ingredient on the supplement market due to its multiple benefits and versatility.

GelcoPEP® is an ideal ingredient in the manufacture of dietary supplements designed to support good bone health, cartilage and joint regeneration, as well as complementary supplements for the treatment of arthritis, osteoporosis and osteoarthritis.

In supplements for athletes, GelcoPEP® contributes to improving sports performance, as well as post-workout recovery.

In the cosmetic sector, GelcoPEP® is present in supplements that seek to prevent premature aging. It also contributes to the good health and beauty of skin, hair and nails.

Find more in www.gelcopep.com

