

Applications of GelcoPEP® collagen in the production of functional foods

Collagen is an increasingly present ingredient in functional foods and beverages, due to its high digestibility and bioavailability.

Foods and beverages that contain collagen peptides are important allies for the maintenance of people's health and well-being.

GelcoPEP® is a natural protein source, which allows protein enrichment of foods and beverages, such as:

- Energy drinks
- Juices and fruit extracts
- Collagen shots
- Energy bars
- Chocolates
- Cookies
- Yogurts
- Nutritional snacks.
